

Dr. David Gómez-Almaguer is head of Hematology at the University Hospital in Monterrey Mexico, and Director of the Stem Cell Transplantation Program, the only FACT accredited program in Mexico. He is a member of the American Society of Hematology, American Society of Clinical Oncology, International Society of Hematology, ASBMT and CIBMTR, and Past President (2009-2011) of Mexican Society of Hematology (AMEH). He was Chair of the CIBMTR's International Studies Working Committee representing Mexico, Central and South America from 2009-2011. He is a member of the National Academy of Medicine in Mexico, Mexican Academy of Science and National System of Investigators. He is also Secretary General of the Inter-American Division of the International Society of Hematology and President of the Mexican Society of Stem Cell Transplantation. Dr. Gómez-Almaguer has published over 200 articles in Mexican and international journals, and several chapters in books. He is also Editor of the journal Medicina Universitaria, and three books, and has received several awards in recognition for his research.